Harrisburg, PA --- The decision was not a hard one for Benoit Baillargeon when he saw Alarm Detector. "I like the whole package," he said of the Chapter Seven – Final Countdown – Yankee Glide colt whose sales ticket he signed for $110,000, the day's sales topper, at the Standardbred Horse Sale on Wednesday.

"There's a guy (Bryan Montgomery) who put me on to him," said Baillargeon. He said, 'Ben, this is a very nice looking colt, you should go take a look at him. He knows I'm a trotting man. I buy mostly trotters all the time. He said you should go take a look at this horse.

"Bryan saw him raised, really, because he lives locally, near the farm (Concord Stud Farm, consignor for Order By Stable). He said he'd seen the horse grow up and he was a nice horse. So I looked at the horse, I looked at the video and he had a beautiful way of going and I said, 'Well, let's try to buy him.'

"I know all these horses (in his pedigree), it's a good family. Trotters have been good to me; they've been bread and butter to me. I buy and race a lot of trotters, it's good fit for me.

"He will head north, in Canada, no Florida for me. I'm at Ideal Training Center, about half an hour north of Mohawk. He will have the harness on him Monday."

Russell Williams, Chairman of the Standardbred Horse Sale, was pleased with the virtual wrap up of the yearling portion of the sale. "It was the second best average we ever had," he said. The top average came in 2007, when 1,048 yearlings sold for an average of $40,824. This year's average was $38,662 for 866 yearlings.

"Very satisfying, particularly when you think of all the work that goes in to raising these horses. It's really great that our consignors can have a pay day."
